

You want to dump your partner and you can't find a good excuse? Dump him/her with Greimasian modalities!!!

Look, this is a bad moment: I must think about things that are bigger than me, make decisions I'm not able to make etc. (ad lib.)

MUST

DO

Don't ever call me again.

I'm sorry to tell you so roughly, but one shouldn't lie in such cases

NOT DO

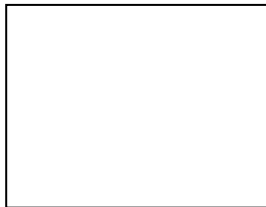

NOT MUST

We shouldn't stop taking care of each other... but to love is something else

It must be great to love someone the way you love me, but it's just not happening to me

BE

Please, don't be in love with me. I'm not the kind of girl/guy you need

Sorry but...nobody can force me to be with someone I don't want to be with

NOT BE

NOT MUST

I am sorry: I must not rush into something I am clearly not ready for.
